

Slipcase for David Wright's Carol Day Story Books

May 2, 2025 - We are pleased to say that the trio of Carol Day story books we planned last year is nearing completion. Last of the Line, our second Story Book, will begin shipping shortly, and we will be taking pre-orders for the third book in a few weeks.

To store and display the story books, we've designed a slipcase that will fit three. The slipcase is the same form factor as the Lance Hallam and Jack Slingsby art books, so if you've collected the set, they will match on your shelf.

In addition, to maintain a consistent look and feel, Brian Bolland has done another of his wonderful Carol Day designs for the front of the slipcase, while David Roach designed the back. The images are above.

The slipcase is available now at the Book Palace. Click here to order. Copies are on the way to the US now for US customers.
